DOMESTIC SECTION 214 APPLICATION FILED FOR TRANSFER OF CONTROL OF COMMONWEALTH TELEPHONE ENTERPRISES, INC.

STREAMLINED PLEADING CYCLE ESTABLISHED

WC Docket No. 03-114

On April 25, 2003, Eldorado Equity Holdings, Inc. ("Eldorado") and Commonwealth Telephone Enterprises, Inc. ("CTE") (together "Applicants") filed an application, pursuant to sections 63.03 and 63.04 of the Federal Communications Commission's (Commission) rules,¹ for consent to transfer ultimate control of CTE to the public shareholders of CTE ("Transferee").²

Applicants assert that the application qualifies for presumptive streamlined treatment under section 63.03(b)(1)(ii) of the Commission's rules because the Transferee is not a telecommunications provider. Applicants state that following the completion of this proposed stock restructuring, it is not anticipated that any individual or group will control 10 percent or more of the voting stock of CTE.

CTE is a publicly traded company organized under Pennsylvania law which, through its subsidiaries, is engaged in a variety of communications services. CTE is the parent company of Commonwealth Telephone Company, which operates as an incumbent local exchange carrier in eastern and central Pennsylvania. CTE's two wholly-owned subsidiaries, CTSI, LLC and Commonwealth Long Distance, provide domestic interstate interexchange services.

Eldorado is an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Level 3 Communications, Inc., which offers interexchange telecommunications services nationwide as a non-dominant carrier. Eldorado holds the largest single block of common stock in CTE. Applicants state that Eldorado does not have de jure control over CTE, as it does not control a majority of the voting stock and does not have the power to appoint a majority of the directors or the corporate officers.

² Applicants are also filing applications for transfer of control associated with international authorizations and wireless licenses. Any action on this domestic 214 application is without prejudice to Commission action on other related pending applications.

Nonetheless, Applicants explain that several individuals affiliated with Eldorado's parent company are directors of CTE, and Eldorado may exercise de facto control over CTE.

CTE has two classes of stock. The common stock has one vote per share, and the Class B common stock has 15 votes per share. Eldorado owns approximately 50.2% of the Class B common stock, giving it approximately 29.3% of the total voting power in the corporation. Both classes of stock are publicly traded.

CTE, with Eldorado's consent, has proposed to amend its Articles of Incorporation to convert each share of Class B common stock into 1.09 shares of common stock with one vote per share. If this proposed conversion is completed, Eldorado's shares will account for approximately 4.6% of the voting power of the corporation. One other shareholder will control approximately 9%, and another will control 7%. Thus, Applicants argue that even if Eldorado is currently deemed to exercise de facto control over CTE, it will no longer be able to do so after the conversion. Such control would thereupon be transferred to the stockholders of CTE as a group.

The Applicants assert that granting this application will serve the public interest in promoting competition by providing CTE the opportunity to enhance its ability to attract capital and strengthen its competitive position. The principals of Level 3 have determined that financial and competitive benefits will result from the restructuring of Eldorado's holdings in CTE. Applicants state that this proposed transaction will not change the management or services provided by CTE to customers.
